He Issues an Address to the American

Brigham H. Roberts of Utah, who was not allowed to be sworn in as a representative in Congress of that state, has issued an address to the American people. It contains much that was said by Roberts on the floor of the House and by Mr. Richardson, who opposed the resolution of Mr. Tayler of Ohio. After reviewing the facts and proceedings resulting in the ap-pointment of the committee he says: "The member from Utah is not allowed to take the oath of his office, and a committee is appointed to try him as to his alleged more is granted than was asked, at least more than was asked upon the floor of the House: For a hostile committee has been appointed to inquire into the case. Its membership is made up entirely of those who voted to adopt the method of prowho voted to adopt the method of pro-cedure. Not one who voted against it was allowed to find a place upon that commit-iee; and if the creation of such a tribunal for such a purpose be allowed, there is no reason why the committee should not be made up of members of one political faith-for the majority may do as it pleases about that.

Effect of the Precedent.

"I ask the American people to stop and think what that may mean to this country in times of high political excitement and party strife and passion.

party strife and passion.

"I deny the existence of the lawful power of the House to prevent me from being sworn in on the presentation of the same evidence of prima facie right upon which others are admitted to membership.

"I deny the right of the House of Representatives to resolve itself into the justice of the peace court, to try me for a misdemeanor alleged to have been committed, in order to find grounds of expulsion or exclusion from the high office to which I was elected.

"I deny its right to confer any such power upon its committee.

"I deny its right to confer any such power upon its committee.

"If I were guilty of the misdemeanor charged, even flagrantly so—here in the capital—I could not even be arrested for the offense, so slight is it considered under the law. The Constitution gives the members of Congress immunity from arrest for misdemeanors, except for breach of the peace, and yet for an alleged misdemeanor for which I could not be arrested while in attendance upon the House, or of the peace, and yet for an alleged misdemeanor for which I could not be arrested while in attendance upon the House, or while going to or from it—I am deprived the right to take the oath of office; my final right to my seat is in jeopardy; the people of one of the sovereign states is denied representation, so long as it shall suit the purpose of the committee to have it so, and the expressed will of the people of a state is in danger of being defeated.
"Even continuing the relations formed
before this settlement of the question, though their disruption was neither demanded by the enabling act nor contemplated in the provisions of the state constitution—are under the law a misdemeanor and punishable; but it has not been regarded as necessary to good morals or public policy to prosecute people for this offense, and neither by the republican party or by democrats has the existence of such relations been considered a bar to political preferment until the political and religious enemies of the present representative from Utah thought proper to urge them against him.

Guarantee for the Future.

"American citizens, it is a 'Mormon' who is the object of the popula. clamor today, may it not be the Catholic, or the Metholist, or the free thinker, tomorrow? dist, or the free thinker, tomorrow? It the rights of the representative from Utah and of his state cannot be safeguarded by the provisions of the Constitution and the laws from the frenzy of popular fury, set on fire by faischood and distortion, what guarantee have we that any one's rights are secure? And is it true that this mobilaw by indirection is to reach within what should be the sacred precincts of the House of Representatives itself? I shall do all I can to maintain my rights, and indirectly, yours, too, under the Constitution. I stand alone, save for the very few who gave me their very guarded support by voting against the monstrous proceedings that prevents me from taking the oath of office. I am without a dollar at my command which we can be safery attached to my pending before the special committee I am without legal counsel except for the kindly suggestions of here and there a word from a lawyer acquaintance or friend. And, indeed, I prefer it to be so now, for my case is so firmly rooted in justice that it needs but a plain statement of the fasts, and a fair application of the law to them in order to make my right to my seat apparent; and I want the condition here assidnal charges that have been made about the Mormon church standing behind me, with any amount of money for legal counsel, and the maintenance of a loby in Washington. But it is possible in the present state of public sentiment that sophistry and special pleading, adrottly put. SENATOR MARTIN CHOSEN.

Result of the Democratic Caucus at Richmond, Va.

Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia was renominated by the democratic caucus at Richmond last night on the first bellow for United States senator to succeed himseif. His only opponent was Governor J. Hoge Tyler. The vote stood: Martin, 103; Tyler, 27. The senator's name was placed before the caucus by Senator McIlwaine of Petersburg. Senator Foster of Norfolk, one of the oldest members of the legislature, seconded Mr. Martin's nomination Governor Tyler's name was placed before the caucus by Delegate Poilock of Pulaski, the home county of the candidate. All of the speeches of the evening were studiously devoid of all unpleasant allusions to the campaign and the issues which were sought to be brought out therein.

Before the announcement of the result of the ballot, Senator LeCato, a representative of the governor, moved to make the nomination unanimous. This, however, was strenuously resisted by Senator Martin's friends, who insisted upon the announcement of the vote and a showing of the actual strength of the two candidates. This was done. After the result of the roll-call had been announced, on motion of Senator Le Cato the vote was made unanimous. Governor Tyler's name was placed be-

A very enthusiastic meeting of the organ izers of a new military company was held last evening at St. Andrew's Hall, 14th and Corcoran streets northwest, for the pur pose of placing the company on a perma nent basis. A constitution was read and will be adopted at a meeting to be helnext week. The officers of the company were elected last evening as follows: Cap tain, F. S. Hinrichs; first lieutenant, F.-P. Whitney; second lieutenant, C. P. Brower Captain Hinrichs has had several years training in the National Guard, being connected with the Morton Cadets. The two lieutenants have had military training in the National Guard and the High School Cadets. The company is expected to be designated as the Columbia Riffes, and will apply for admission to the National Guard within the the Columbia Rifles, and will apply for ad-mission to the National Guard within the mission to the National Guard within the next few weeks.

The company is made up of former High-School Cadets, ex-guardsmen and members of several other military institutes. It is expected that it will be one of the leading organizations of the District in military and social affairs. Mr. Herbert Meyers was appointed first sergeant of the company immediately after the election of officers.

The company, it is expected, will attend the reception given by the St. Andrew's Club this evening.

volunteers during the civil war, and now a resident of Indiana. Through a technicality, Gen. Turchim is unable to obtain a pension. He enlisted in an Ohio regiment early in the civil war and became colonel of the 19th. While in command of that regiment he was sent or an expedition to Huntsville, Ala., his soidiers subsisting on the country through which they passed, a method of warfare afterward employed by Sherman in his famous march to the sea. For some excesses committed by his troops, for which he was held responsible, Col. Turchim was tried by a court-martial, of which the late Gen. Garfield was president, and sentenced to dismissal. The sentence was technically approved by President Lincoln, but he immediately appointed Turchim a brigadier general of volunteers and sent him back to the scene of his previous operations.

At the close of the war Turchim was mustered out and has since lived in Indiana. Having become infirm from age and reduced in circumstances, he recently applied for a pension, but the pension bureau refused the application on the ground that it was barred by the sentence of dismissal and the latter was not wiped out by the reappointment.

The Force of Habit. It is a peculiar thing that the use of Coffee and Tea has not been replaced, more than is the case, by the use of Van Houten's Cocoa.

The reason for that is to be sought in the force of habit. But habits should be broken through, and Van Houten's Cocoa taken, now that it has been proven to be a much healthier and more delicious drink than Tea and Coffee, while at the same time so nourishing and easily digested.

For the Nerves, also, Van Houten's Cocoa is so much better; because, although it is equally refreshing, it has not pernicious after-effects upon the nerves, such as follow after using Coffee or Tea.

It is not an expensive habit to use Van Houten's Cocoa; indeed, after actual trial of various brands, and even loose cocoa, many persons have discovered that Van Houten's Cocoa is not only the best and most delicious, but it is also the most economical.
